HOW TO PAY OFF DEBT

ENTREPRENEUR STYLE!

7 TIPS

You need to know when getting out of debt

1 TAKE INVENTORY OF YOUR DEBTS

Time for some real talk. Facing your financial reality might feel like a horror movie, but trust me, it's necessary. Grab a latte, sit down, and list every single debt – credit cards, loans, you name it. Jot down the balances, minimum payments, and interest rates. Knowing your debt debts, gives you the power to craft a game plan that's as unique as you are.

2 PRIORITIZE AND STRATEGIZE

Not all debts are created equal, darling. List your debts from highest to lowest interest rate because those high-interest baddies cost you the most.

TRY THESE STRATEGIES:

Snowball Method: Pay off the smallest debt first for that sweet, sweet victory hit.

Avalanche Method: Target the highest interest rate debts to save more money over time.

Intelligent Snowball Method: Start small for the win, then tackle higher interest debts. It's like combining the best of both worlds.

3 CREATE A BUDGET YOU CAN STICK TO

A strategy is essential to ensuring your team reaches your goals.

Time to channel your inner CFO and create a budget that rocks. I recommend the 50/30/20 method: 50% for needs, 30% for fun, and 20% for saving.

But hey, since we're on a debt-crushing mission, let's tweak it.

How about 50% needs, 10% fun, and 40% debt smashing? Remember, this isn't forever – just until your debt-free and fabulous.

4 CUT EXPENSES AND INCREASE INCOME

You need to create a gap between your income and expenses, pronto.

Cut out the unnecessary – cancel those unused subscriptions and swap expensive habits for budget-friendly ones.

This isn't forever, just while you're taming that debt beast.

Next, find ways to boost your income.

Side hustle, anyone?

Freelance gigs, selling your crafty creations online – every extra dollar counts.

5 NEGOTIATE AND CONSOLIDATE

Oh yes, we're rhyming now. Don't be shy to negotiate with your creditors.

Call them up and ask for lower interest rates or settle for less.

They might just say yes! Also, think about consolidating your debts into one loan with a lower rate. Simplifies your life and saves you money? Yes, please!

6 FIND ACCOUNTABILITY AND USE EXTRA MONEY WISELY

Accountability is your secret weapon. Share your goals with a trusted friend, join a support group, or partner up with a mentor.

When someone's cheering you on and tracking your progress, you're more likely to stay on track and slay those debt dragons. Did you get a tax refund, bonus, or unexpected inheritance?

Resist the urge to splurge. Instead, throw that money at your debt. Each windfall is a golden opportunity to leap closer to financial freedom.
